

Stories of Redstone

Christ at work in our midst

Your Church & Social Media

How do
you connect
?

Redstone Presbytery has an active Facebook presence and Twitter presence. We also have a blog called “Redstone Together” to share more stories about our churches and how they’re sharing Christ’s love in the world.

Want to know more? Get in touch with your presbytery’s Communications Team via Redstone’s Facebook page or the Presbytery office.

Some suggested ways to use social media in your church

1. Use your website for constant information (office hours, staff information, ministries, etc.)
2. Use your Facebook page for updates and changing events. Post pictures from your church dinner, notify members of change in meetings, share a video that pertains to your upcoming sermon series, etc.
3. Get a Twitter handle and link it to your Facebook page to share blog posts and denomination news.
4. Instagram can be used to share individual pictures or video from your events.

*Communicate the Word... Carry on the Work...
Change the World ... Together!*

Stories of Redstone

Christ at work in our midst

Your Church & Social Media

How do
you connect
?

Redstone Presbytery has an active Facebook presence and Twitter presence. We also have a blog called “Redstone Together” to share more stories about our churches and how they’re sharing Christ’s love in the world.

Want to know more? Get in touch with your presbytery’s Communications Team via Redstone’s Facebook page or the Presbytery office.

Some suggested ways to use social media in your church

1. Use your website for constant information (office hours, staff information, ministries, etc.)
2. Use your Facebook page for updates and changing events. Post pictures from your church dinner, notify members of change in meetings, share a video that pertains to your upcoming sermon series, etc.
3. Get a Twitter handle and link it to your Facebook page to share blog posts and denomination news.
4. Instagram can be used to share individual pictures or video from your events.

*Communicate the Word... Carry on the Work...
Change the World ... Together!*