

Stories of Redstone

Christ at work in our midst

Last summer a young man stopped by the church asking if we have a choir because he wanted to join and sing praises to Jesus. He was told yes and invited to come worship with us on Sunday. Not only did he come; he found out where the choir was warming up and joined them.

This friendly young man soon worked his way into our hearts and us into his. Eugene worshiped with us for nearly 6 months, sharing his love for singing and Scripture. Eugene was open about his troubled past and the way the Lord had worked in his life.

In January we were heartbroken to learn that he had been arrested for robbing a local Family Dollar. One of the active elders went to his preliminary hearing to show him that his church had not turned our back on him.

Eugene was visibly overwhelmed to see her. Eugene and members of the congregation frequently correspond with each other while he awaits trial in May.

This is being church.

Jesus has given us the privilege of visiting the prisoner, even if we can only visit by letter. We have all received, grace upon grace.

---First Presbyterian Church,
Johnstown

Communicate the Word...Carry on the Work...Change the World Together!

Stories of Redstone

Christ at work in our midst

Last summer a young man stopped by the church asking if we have a choir because he wanted to join and sing praises to Jesus. He was told yes and invited to come worship with us on Sunday. Not only did he come; he found out where the choir was warming up and joined them.

This friendly young man soon worked his way into our hearts and us into his. Eugene worshiped with us for nearly 6 months, sharing his love for singing and Scripture. Eugene was open about his troubled past and the way the Lord had worked in his life.

In January we were heartbroken to learn that he had been arrested for robbing a local Family Dollar. One of the active elders went to his preliminary hearing to show him that his church had not turned our back on him.

Eugene was visibly overwhelmed to see her. Eugene and members of the congregation frequently correspond with each other while he awaits trial in May.

This is being church.

Jesus has given us the privilege of visiting the prisoner, even if we can only visit by letter. We have all received, grace upon grace.

---First Presbyterian Church,
Johnstown

Communicate the Word...Carry on the Work...Change the World Together!